HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H. R. Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It rests in Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient safe and secure

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use

Richmond Va

A REVIEW OF THE SITUATION—[illegible] CONSTRUCTED [illegible] THE STATE

(Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Times March 22.)

WASHINGTON March 21. A petition was received here yesterday from Ex-Gov H. A. Wise and Ex-Gov H. H. Wells counsel for Mayor Cahoon of Richmond praying Judge Underwood of the United States District Court for that District for an injunction to restrain Ellison and his adherents from exercising the functions of Mayor and Common Council until the question is legally decided. This injunction was granted and sent down last night, and it was probably served to-day. It will be heard on Wednesday before Judge Underwood in Richmond. It is a singular fact that while the local Courts in Richmond were open to Ellison he failed to apply to them to enforce his rights, but induced Gov Walker to recommend Cahoon to do so and in the meantime used force and arms to accomplish his purpose. Cahoon has done nothing but act in self defense, and the illegality of the movement against him is so flagrant that even so extreme a man as Ex-Gov Henry A. Wise has come to his aid. To a full understanding of the origin of the troubles in Richmond, a brief reference to some of the acts of Gov Walker and the Legislature since the admission of the State is necessary. Virginia is now supposed to be governed by the Constitution under which she was admitted. By the election of Lieut Gov Lewis to the United States Senate a vacancy occurred in the office which existed when the State was admitted. Concerning the election of this officer the Constitution of the State says, that the qualifications and the manner of the election of Lieutenant-Governor is as follows "In the absence of the Lieutenant-Governor, or when he shall exercise the office of Governor, the Senate shall choose from their own body a President pro tem, and each House shall appoint its own officers." On the 27th of January, Gov Walker appointed, without any other authority than the above provision John L. Marye, of Fredricksburg, Lieut Gov of the State, and when the Legislature assembled, they ratified the appointment by electing him by joint ballot. There is no provision in the Constitution for this proceeding, and in making the appointment Gov Walker literally appointed his own successor, which fact caused considerable comment here at the time. The next step of the Legislature was the passage of a so-called Enabling act, which seems to have been designed to ignore and supplant the Constitution in several important respects. When the State was admitted into the Union Legislature took the ground that all the offices previously filled by military appointment had become vacant. They, therefore, provided in the first section of this Enabling act as follows

"That all such officers who are eligible to office under the existing Constitution and laws of Virginia and who qualified on or before the 26th of January, 1870 and no others, be and they are hereby recognized as legal officers of this Commonwealth and authorized to hold their said offices, and to exercise the rights and powers perform the duties and enjoy the privileges and emoluments appertaining to the same, as far as they may lawfully do so under the present Constitution and laws of this State, and until their successors are appointed and elected, and have duly qualified."

By this provision it will be seen that all the civil officers appointed by Gen Canby, who were in office when the State was admitted were put upon the same footing, so far as this act could do it as though they had been elected or appointed subsequent to the admission of the State as provided by the Constitution. Section 20 of article 6 of the Constitution provides

"There shall be chosen by the electors of every city a Mayor, who shall be the chief executive officer thereof, and shall see that the duties of the various city officers are faithfully performed"

Among other powers granted to the Mayor is the following

"He shall also have power to suspend or remove such officers, whether they be elected or appointed, for misconduct, abuse or neglect of duty to be specified in the order of suspension or removal"

Section 20 also contains the further provision

"All city, town and village officers whose election or appointment is not provided for by this Constitution, shall be elected by the electors of such cities towns and villages, or by some division thereof, or appointed by such authorities thereof, as the General Assembly shall designate. All other officers whose election or appointment is not provided for by this Constitution, and all officers whose offices may be hereafter created by law shall be elected by the people or appointed as the General Assembly may direct"

The Enabling act makes no provision for any election, but section 21 of the sixth article of the Constitution provides as follows

SEC 5 That for the more efficient government of the cities and towns of the Commonwealth, the Governor of this State shall, as soon as practicable, appoint as many councilmen or trustees for each city and town now entitled to trustees or councilmen as are now provided by law

SEC 6. Councilmen and trustees now exercising the offices of such officers may continue in such offices until the councilmen and trustees as provided in the foregoing section shall qualify and no longer, and shall fill vacancies in their respective bodies occurring during their continuance in office

SEC 7 In all cities and towns the councilmen and trustees appointed by the Governor as hereinbefore prescribed, shall have authority, and are hereby required to appoint all municipal officers except judges and officers of the courts heretofore provided for in their respective cities and towns who shall have all the powers and discharge all the duties now conferred and required by law upon such municipal office s

In palpable violation of the above provisions of the Constitution the Legislature incorporated as part of the Enabling act the following provision

SEC 9 The officers appointed in pursuance of this act shall continue in office until their respective successors are elected under the Constitution of this State are duly qualified

After enacting the above violations of the Constitution this law recognizes the Constitution at its own convenience and provides as follows

"All regular elections for city or town officers under this article shall be held on the fourth Thursday in May and the officers elected shall enter upon their duties on the 1st day of July succeeding"

By this proceeding not only the spirit but the very letter of the Constitution is violated in the most flagrant manner. When Mr Speaker Porter of the House of Delegates and his Committee of eighteen were besieging Congress for readmission they prayed as follows "And the undersigned pledge themselves and those whom they represent that the Constitution of Virginia voted for by the people on the 6th of July 1869 shall be faithfully carried out in letter and spirit" and it was signed and it was indorsed by Zephaniah Turner and eighteen others. It is currently believed here in republican circles that all this action is but a part of a general scheme by which the Democratic Anti Republican so-called Conservative party propose to get possession of the entire political power of the State the purpose being to postpone the holding elections in cities and towns in May next as provided by the Constitution on the plea that there is not sufficient time to pass the necessary Registration laws and register the voters. Part of this scheme is said to be the election of Gov Walker to the Senate, in place of Senator Johnston, whose term expires in March 1871. Thereupon Lieut Gov Marye illegally appointed as above shown would become Governor and the unreconstructed element of Virginia would have Virginia for the Virginians and for nobody else. The people of the North and Congress will watch the development of this programme with interest and if it is carried out as now threatened there will be another occasion for enforcing that provision of the National Constitution guaranteeing to every State a republican form of government upon another perfidious people.

MOVEMENTS OF LOPEZ—RETURN OF PARAGUAYAN FAMILIES—POSITION AND WORTH OF THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT—TROUBLE AT ASUNCION—RECEPTION OF THE NATIONAL GUARDS AT BUENOS AYRES

(From correspondence New York Times.)

BUENOS AYRES S. A. Jan 14

News from Paraguay is rather deficient in interest. Latest accounts report Lopez at Cerro Cora with about three thousand men, making for the Cordillera. Should he succeed in reaching the mountains pursuit will be almost impossible owing not only to the nature of the ground, but also to the distance of the pursuers from their base of supplies. Lopez is reported as usual, to be in want of food, but this has been the tale for so long that one would fancy he must have found out the means of subsisting on air, or some equally light diet. The plain truth is that the Allies have not the remotest idea as to Lopez's position or his resources. All the accounts they receive are from deserters or prisoners certainly a class not always to be relied upon

RETURN OF PARAGUAYAN FAMILIES

On the 29th ult some three hundred Paraguayan families arrived at Rosario, Paraguay, in a state of perfect misery among these appeared the mother of the late Bishop General Barrios sister, the wife of the late Chief of Police at Asuncion and eight or nine foreign ladies. Providing for these unfortunates seems to occupy nearly all the time and energy of the Provisional Government, and yet they are not very much better off now than when with Lopez

POSITION OF THE TRIUMVIRATE

The Triumvirate's Justice seems either powerless or else of a most inefficient kind for the country is overrun by bands of Paraguayans who rob on their own account, and spread no little terror around, traveling is dangerous even in Asuncion's suburbs. In a word, poverty misery and crime reign supreme in a country which was but five years back happy, prosperous and peaceful.

An instance of the Triumvirate's usefulness. A few days ago its existence was threatened by a mob of about fifty or sixty foreign sailors, who demanded the release of a Portuguese arrested for assaulting a Paraguayan woman. This mob marched on the Capitania, tore down the flag, which was thrown over into the street and then proceeded to deeds of violence. There was no knowing how the affair would have ended but for the arrival of a small picquet of Brazilians, which dispersed the mob after a few shots had been exchanged on either side. The members of the Triumvirate are most overbearing in their manners to all whom they deem their inferiors, and are therefore neither liked or respected any more than can be helped

RETURN OF THE NATIONAL GUARDS

The chief event of the fortnight has been the return to this city of the National Guards after a four years' sojourn in Paraguay, where they had a good share of the hardest fighting, as testified to by their tattered colors. At early morn on the 31st ult., the Plazas Victoria, and 25 de Mayo filled with Argentines eager to welcome home their sons, at an early hour the river frontage was crowded, and thus things remained until about 3 P. M., when the first steamer came in sight. Patience was rewarded at last, and it needed no slight amount to remain exposed to the sun's scorching rays for five or six hours. Gen. Emilio Mitre and staff landed at about 5 P. M., and were received at the mole-head by the Minister of War and several other dignitaries. No signs however, of the troops' advance were given. A few hundreds only had landed by about 8 P. M., and their number was slowly increased till near 12, when only some hundreds were left on board. At 12 those having landed, perhaps, between two and three thousand joined in marching order and marched through the streets appointed midst showers of flowers, rockets, etc., seldom if ever seen before in Buenos Ayres. The streets were well illuminated and had it not been for the fact that half the city had fallen to sleep, this midnight reception would have eclipsed in splendor anything which might have taken place during the day. At sunrise on the 1st, found the few hundreds left over night on board, ashore and they immediately marched to join their respective companies, in order to be ready for the "marching past" at 5 P. M. The review, however did not take place, owing to the elections for Deputies to Congress, as the "people" numbering several thousands, formed in procession between 5 and 6 and proceeded to the Retiro to welcome the troops. There the usual speechifying was seen to in proper style, and so closed the day, the following day being appointed for the grand reception

On Sunday at 6 Calle Reconquista (the street through which the English retreated in 1805) was filled by crowds of both sexes. The troops began to assemble at once and by about 8.30 they had reached Plaza Victoria thence marching back to the Retiro by Calle Florida which was reached between 7 and 8 o'clock. On the 4th the more agreeable task at least to the soldiers—of paying off was performed. Some received arrears to the amount of $30 000 in paper, or $1,200 in gold. Sunday last, the 9th all were once more assembled in the Plaza Parque where the medals or rather the clasps for the Paraguayan war medal which is being cast in England were distributed. Thus ended a series of ceremonies ever to be remembered in Buenos Ayres as the conclusion of a strife which, though in its beginning unjust to many minds has, nevertheless, abundantly proved the Argentine troops equal to those of any country in valor and endurance

The Oregon Democratic Platform

From the San Francisco Bulletin

The Oregon Democracy proclaim themselves to be still in the gall of bitterness. They are willing to wreck the credit and honor of the country forever in the future in order to wreak their spite for what has happened in the past. They might as well have endorsed repudiation, clear and simple in the resolution reported by the Committee as to have painted a blush upon its brazen front as it appears in the resolution finally passed. To simulate shame may compliment virtue but it only renders the sinner more disgusting. To have declared the debt void as the product of an unholy war might have gained some respect for its consistency with past resistance to the war. But to declare that "the continued payment of interest on the debt makes the burden too heavy to be borne" is a sample of statecraft which only renders its authors ridiculous politically and ought to make men cautious how they lend them money personally. On the gold actually received for our national debt the average gold interest does not exceed eight per cent. yet those folk country Democrats are doubtless some of them grinding the faces of the poor at one or two per cent a month and have no idea of lessening their claim for the principal on that account. If it were of use essay to reason with such men we might further inform them that England's debt was [illegible] as great as ours, but England's credit now would be [illegible] indeed! If such counsel as theirs had been [illegible] where would our credit and good name be [illegible] such blundering counsels as these had control of Congress instead of in Oregon [illegible] their representatives [illegible] would be worthless and its name a by-word [illegible]

[illegible] Ma[illegible] we have the following curious [illegible] Cutrey of Tyaskin District [illegible] was born a mute and was never [illegible] uttered a syllable until Saturday on which day she was fifty years old. She had been confined to her bed by sickness for some time when on the day mentioned to the great surprise of her family and her friends, she began talking fluently and from then to the hour of her death which occurred on the following day she prayed almost unceasingly in an audible voice and understandingly. The lady has two sisters and a brother also mutes

Business and Politics.

From the San Francisco Commercial Herald

The relationship existing between business and politics is very intimate, so much so that unfavorable negligent ignorant or rascally legislation seriously disturbs the currents of all business operations. It has been shown that the expense for governing New York City, in the year 1869, was within $29 000 of the amount expended for governing the whole United States in 1859. This astounding fact naturally suggests the question, What was the reason? It is fairly and solely attributable to the reprehensible negligence, sometimes amounting to absolute aversion with which large numbers of our business men regard political affairs. Thousands of them never attend the primaries, and are never seen at the polls, except on rare and extraordinary occasions. They shun the performance of that sacred duty as persistently as if it were criminal or degrading. The management of politics is left to the lower [illegible], to those who are under the control of designing and unscrupulous men; to those "who have axes to grind," and to parties who have no abiding interest in the permanence of our institutions, but make the indifference of those who have, the stepping stone for their own personal aggrandizement. That this is too generally [illegible] will not be [illegible] and that it is always deprecated, when too late, does not admit of contradiction. But the sad lessons of experience do not seem to create any lasting impression. By the time another election is to be had, the determination to reform and take an active part in placing an honest and capable man in office, has oozed away. Indignation, and the remembrance of [illegible] legislation give place to apathy and indifference. Merchants bankers, business men of all sorts, have only themselves to blame for the villainies perpetrated on them by [illegible] and Assemblymen—villainies which grow larger, more shameful more oppressive, from year to year, by reason of the [illegible] of those who have [illegible] fashionable to abstain from voting. [illegible] New York Legislature, and some of its courts have been standing marks of objurgation and contempt; but we learn of no step toward [illegible] having been taken by those who should be most [illegible] in their purification. The moneyed men of the city, and State are altogether too fashionable, too aristocratic, to be seen doing their duty at the polls. They are afraid of contact with the roughs and vagabonds there [illegible] on election days, and permit the reins of Government to be held by the most abject and besotted classes. Everything goes by [illegible] and [illegible] measure is broached in the Legislature, or Board of Aldermen, they club together and stave off its passage by absolute purchase, actually offering bribes for the [illegible] forced!

The performance of jury duty is another odious bugbear to such people, and is avoided with special design. Our laws are outraged, modified and rendered inoperative because our juries are too frequently composed of men having strong sympathy with accused criminals. It is for this reason that "hanging is played out in New York." It was [illegible] that the Vigilance Committee of 1856 was called into existence. It is for these reasons that a Vigilance Committee is now talked of in New York, and the [illegible] of getting up one for Sacramento [illegible]. A glance at some of the Acts which have been originated and found favor in our Assembly should [illegible] our business men from their inexcusable inaction. Look, for instance, at the city grading bill, the indigent bill, the different City bills the bill to appoint a Bank Commissioner, the one to [illegible] the bill to pay salaries to men who [illegible] the ground that such [illegible] by the soldier vote, and, but for it, the appellant would have been elected, look at the bill [illegible] Commissioner at [illegible] and the [illegible] appointing a Commissioner to visit, examine, and report upon the Insane Asylums of Europe. Why not, also a Commissioner to visit Europe [illegible] hospitals [illegible] for attention [illegible] orphan asylums, another for Industrial Schools, and so on ad infinitum! Look at the numberless one sided purely partisan measures to [illegible] the pecuniary interest [illegible] who never performed a single day's honest [illegible] but who are to be provided for at the public expense. We now, here, and in the most [illegible] manner, charge all [illegible] that have come upon us, to the unpardonable apathy and neglect of our business men, bankers, and capitalists. Men who are too proud or too avaricious of time to [illegible] duty owing to their country, should be too proud to accept its protection and enjoy the [illegible] of the rapidly [illegible] degraded community

Gen Magruder has informed the people of Galveston Texas that while he is anxious to see the welfare of the whole country promoted, his own heart is with the South and will remain there forever. Accordingly, he says, that as he has abstained entirely from mingling with the political parties of the country since the termination of the late war, so is he opposed to its commemoration by physical monuments, [illegible] erected over the gallant dead. But he recognizes with gratitude and satisfaction those moral monuments which rise spontaneously in the hearts of his comrades and those who knew him "for they are made not with hands, but are eternal in the heavens," and cannot wound the susceptibilities which are the natural results of a long and bloody struggle.

The Convention To-Day

Upon the State Republican Convention which assembles to-day rests an unusually great responsibility For no accurate observer will doubt that upon the character and general acceptability of the candidates put in nomination at this Convention will depend in a great degree the result of the contest

The strength of the two parties in this State is very nearly at an equipoise But there is a large section of the Democracy comprising the best material of the party who have heretofore acted with that organization in an independent manner on their own convictions, who cannot go with it while it sails under repudiation colors We are firmly convinced that the Republicans may now nominate a ticket which will cut largely into the Democratic vote, (or the vote heretofore Democratic) and at the same time secure the solid and undivided strength of the Republicans The triumph of such a ticket would be virtually assured from the day it was put in the field

To assure this result it is not necessary to nominate any candidate not a thorough, uncompromising Republican Consistently with what is due to themselves the Republicans could not nominate any other kind of men. But as we have said on a former occasion, such men only must be nominated as the people generally can repose perfect confidence in. "They must be men who can receive the support not only of all Republicans, but also of the large class of fair-minded men of Democratic antecedents who revolt at the dishonorable platform put forth by the Albany Convention. They must be men who are identified with the past history and growth of the State, and who are in full sympathy with its great enterprises, present and prospective. They must be men of firmness, stability and unimpeachable integrity " So far as we have had opportunity to observe there is a general disposition among delegates to lay out of consideration all personal preferences and all local rivalries, and to act on this occasion as "men who are considering not only the general good of the party, but the good of the State as well.

As to the platform, the case is perfectly plain - All the perplexing questions growing out of the political complications of the last five years have been settled No longer is there anything like "Radicalism," so-called, in the Republican party. That party now presents no measures and advocates no policy which may not consistently receive the support of all men of candor, of moderation, and of conservative views. As guardians of the public credit and upholders of the national faith against the destructive doctrines of the repudiators, Republicans occupy a position that is honorable. There should be associated with them in this contest all who believe in upholding the honor of the country on this vital issue. Again, Republicans are advocates of a policy for the development of the material resources of the country which should attract to them all who take an interest in national growth and advancement, and who feel how important it is that a liberal policy of public improvements, aided and encouraged by the General Government, should be followed in our own State. The admirable Administration of President Grant, which Republicans take unusual pride in, cannot be objectionable to any fair-minded man whose motives are above narrow partisanship, and who desires the welfare of the country. For these reasons, and others of equal cogency, which might easily be enumerated, there is abundant cause why those men, who now revolt against the dishonorable position into which the extremists have forced that party, should now act with the Republicans for the country's good; and the Republicans must not be the ones to prevent this consummation.

Another Device of Politicians.

In San Francisco and throughout California a good many men are out of employment. It is alleged that in many cases they are in very trying circumstances. Manufacturing industry is at a stand, few enterprises of any sort are in progress, and work is therefore very difficult to obtain. As usual the Democratic press throws the blame of all this on the Chinese, and attributes to their presence the inability of white men to obtain employment. The Herald takes up this importunate and ridiculous cry, and declares that the national policy which has produced such results as are now witnessed in California must needs be wrong in theory and practice. Then follows the stale platitudes about Chinese competition so common to the Democratic press, and the Herald closes apparently with the idea that it has made a strong argument for its party.

Nothing, however, could, in truth, be more absurd than this cheap declamation Every intelligent person who understands the financial and industrial condition of the Pacific coast, and the changes that have taken place in it, especially in California, knows well enough that it is not the presence of Chinese in that State nor their employment in various capacities, but chiefly in the ruder kinds of labor, that has disturbed and disarranged the industrial system. For the last fifteen years Chinese laborers have been about as numerous in California as they are now It is well known that the trade of that State is disarranged as well as its labor, and that the cry of "hard times" comes from the manufacturer and merchant as well as from the laboring classes It is the railroad that has produced these changes and affected these results The cheaper labor of the East has been brought in direct competition with the labor of California Eastern manufactures, produced at small cost with labor far below the rates paid on the Pacific slope, have just about annihilated all of California's manufacturing industries Everything in California is now in a state of transition from a higher to a lower level Consequently all is confusion and uncertainty. And so it will continue until the industries and trade of the State are brought down nearly to an Eastern basis Then they will build on a solid and permanent foundation It is absurd to attribute the existing condition of things, as the Herald does, to "the political economy of those who administer national affairs " This is a device of politicians who are always anxious to turn everything of the sort to account for their own purposes

Spirit of the Republican Party

It is a subject of universal remark and congratulation among Republicans that they have never known the spirit of the party to be so high as at the present time Never was an era of more harmonious feeling in the party, never was there a time when Republicans manifested so earnest a purpose to work and win. Laying aside all motives except the common one of consulting for the good of their cause Republicans from all parts of the State have come to the Convention and the form in which they have appeared and the unanimity they manifest, are an earnest of the efforts they are going to make for the success of their cause So great a number of persons was never before in attendance at any political Convention in Oregon It is an indication of a grand uprising of the people that will overwhelm the party that has pronounced for the shameful and childish motto of repudiation The Republicans of Oregon know that the reputation of their State and all its great interests are at stake in this matter The importance of the contest is already felt Republicans fight for the public credit for the honor of their State for the faith of the nation for internal improvements and for a liberal enlightened and honest policy generally With such a cause and with such efforts in its behalf there should be no doubt of the result

The Fifteenth Amendment Jubilee

A more imposing display than the Fifteenth Amendment jubilee, held last evening, has rarely been witnessed in Portland The whole affair was very creditable to colored citizens, who were exceedingly jubilant on the occasion Everything was in good taste and passed off harmoniously All the colored men of the city carried torches and transparencies, and some of the mottoes were remarkably appropriate The exercises at the Court House were distinguished by propriety and decorum, and the oration by Mr Riley was in good taste and delivered with effect The crowd was so dense that not more than half who went to the Court House were able to enter the building The conduct of the colored people on this occasion was a sufficient answer to those who have asserted that these people are unfit to enjoy the privileges and franchises of freemen and citizens Their proceedings throughout were such as would have done credit to any class of our people.

Place of Holding the Convention

At ten o'clock this morning the Convention will assemble at the Court House The Hall of this building is probably the largest in the city, and is every way well adapted to the purposes of the Convention No doubt all the room will be occupied as a great crowd will certainly be in attendance

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

AFFAIRS AT WALLA WALLA.

The Union, of the 2d inst, says: There is a little stagnation in business at this time, many who contemplated making improvements are deterred from doing so on account of the great scarcity of lumber It is impossible to get seasoned lumber at any price and the little amount of green lumber that arrives is sought after and immediately used for repairs on fences and other rough purposes There are some three new sawmills to be erected in this vicinity this spring Mr Green & Co intend to connect a planer with their mill, and dress the lumber before it leaves the mill This will be some saving in the hauling Their mill is to be run by steam, the others are water mills The wonder with us is, will there be any seasoned lumber here next winter for building purposes

[From the Statesman of the 2d inst]

Our streets have been quite lively during the week with loaded teams for Lewiston, I T Messrs. Colly and Haywood's large freight teams left this week, and numerous pack trains are now loading, showing a healthy indication for a lively spring trade

We learn that a lime quarry has been discovered within twenty miles of Walla Walla city Some of the rock has been tested and produced an excellent quality of lime A party will start out during the coming week to prospect, The reported discovery is supposed to be in Umatilla county, Oregon.

Messrs Schnebly & Chapman have fully completed their new grist mill, situated on Mill Creek, about one mile below town, which is now running, and turning out an excellent quality of flour. This mill compares favorably with any of the mills of our valley. Considering the anticipated wheat crop of the coming season, we predict that all of our mills will be kept busy

The following resolution was adopted in the Democratic Convention, of Saturday, the 31st ult, Resolved, That the Hon James D Mix is the choice of the Democracy of Walla Walla county for Delegate to Congress, and the delegates this day chosen to attend the Territorial Convention at Vancouver on the 6th day of April next, are hereby instructed to use all honorable means to secure his nomination

With the pleasant weather of the last week we notice a general revival of trade. Our merchants are all busy, and Main street is constantly thronged, mainly by persons who are fitting out for the mines. Pack trains are departing daily, and all is life and activity On Wednesday and Thursday, Jordan & Co, and I T Reese, fitted out four large trains—one of them for Granite Creek and the other three for Montana At Schwabacher Bro's warehouse some five or six trains have been fitted out within as many days, the majority of them for Montana Adams Bro's have also been busy in fitting out trains. and so it is fair to say that the spring trade opens lively, and all are full of buoyancy and hope

OREGON

Mr. Ed Bulger, of the Dalles, broke his leg last Saturday evening, while skylarking, and will be laid up for several weeks

Sanderson & Co, of San Francisco, are erecting a saw mill at Coos Bay, which promises to rival any mill on the Pacific coast

The delegates from Grant county to the Republican State Convention, are Messrs W V Rinehart F C Sells, L E Holmes, B Whitten P W McBean S H Wood, L Anderson

The spring rise of the Columbia river has already begun. As the snows in the interior are unusually deep and late, we may reasonably look for a high stage of water through May and June

The Ensign says the officers of the Coos Bay Wagon Road Company are President A Rose, Secretary J F Watson Treasurer E S Morgan, Directors, A. Rose A R Flint, S Hamilton, Wm Weekly and J M Arrington

The business in the Roseburg Land Office for March was as follows Number of acres sold 3 035 65 taken under the Homestead act 6 155 62 taken under the Pre emption act, 4,160 the number of acres for which Donation certificates were issued during the month, 17 123 68 total 30,474 98

The Mountaineer says Rev Thomas Condon received a few days ago a new specimen of fossil remains taken from the ground near Alkali Flat in Grant county In shape it resembles the head of a horse yet upon close examination it can easily be seen that it is not of the horse species but of some animal of which we know nothing about and whose kind must have inhabited this region many thousand years ago

There is a noticeable movement among cattle growers of this valley toward the bunch grass plains of Eastern Oregon The feed ranges of the Wallamet valley are now too limited to support the cattle required to supply our own and the neighboring markets for beef but happily Eastern Oregon has thousands upon thousands of acres of excellent pasturage which lie open, inviting the herdsmen to come in and occupy and get rich

We find the following Canyon City items in the Mountaineer The roads are good except a few miles near Cold Camp No snow on the road The snow at Olive and Burnt River is eight feet deep Prospects for water are better than for several years before The stages to Dixie are crowded with passengers every trip The new grass is plentiful in the foot hills Beef is excellent in the Canyon City market Farmers in John Day Valley are busy sowing their spring crops Our old friend and brother typo, R H J Comer, is still on Dixie Creek, with good prospects ahead

Washington Territory Democratic Convention

VANCOUVER W T April 6 1870

The Great Democratic Convention assembled here this morning, at Billings Hall The Convention consisted of forty proxies and twenty delegates, nearly one-half of the latter being residents of Vancouver and vicinity F P Dugan of Walla Walla, as a member of the Central Committee, called the Convention to order as it was got to order General M Carver of Tacoma was chosen temporary Chairman and N T Caton of Walla Walla was elected Secretary After a good deal of advice, suggestions and prompting orally and by signs, the antiquated Chairman announced the following Committees Credentials Order of Business Permanent Organization and Resolutions whereupon the Convention took a recess for one hour

NOON RECESS

The Convention having reassembled Mr Kyger of Walla Walla made a report on credentials from which it appeared that the counties of Whatkum Island Snohomish Lewis Pacific Wahkiakum Yakima and Stevens were not represented by either delegates or proxies The report was adopted Mr Brazee of Skamania from the Committee on Permanent Organization reported the following For President F Shelton for Secretary Dr Kuhn for Assistant O P Lacy The same Committee also reported the viva voce system of voting and an order of business Report adopted Mr Caton then submitted the following platform from the Committee on Resolutions

The Democracy of Washington Territory in Convention assembled resolve,

1st That we are in favor of strict economy in the administration of affairs, National Territorial and County and opposed to the reckless extravagance which characterizes every department of the General Government

2d We hold that taxation should fall alike up on all the property and wealth of the country and therefore condemn the policy of the party in power in exempting the property of the rich from sharing the burdens imposed upon the people, as iniquitous and unjust upon the laboring and paying masses

3d We hold that a tariff for the purpose of revenue, and not for protection, as now held by the Democratic party, is the only safe system to secure the prosperity and happiness of the people of the United States, the great and wise end of all just governments, and we utterly condemn the policy of the radical party in building up and fostering a privileged class by weighing down and crushing the people by protective legislation

4th We hold that the reconstruction measures of the party in power, by which they forced upon an unwilling people the 14th and 15th Amendments to the Constitution, and in fraud of their rights, are revolutionary and despotic and, a party that would thus violate every principle of right, law and justice, and disregard all the solemn pledges made to the people is wholly unworthy of support.

5th That we are willing to pay our national debt in strict compliance with our contract, but are unwilling to do more than that, and condemn the policy of the Administration in squandering millions of money by paying a premium on bonds when it is the clear right of the Government to redeem them at par.

6th We are in favor of the Government extending aid in the construction of the North Pacific and other Railroads in our Territory, as best calculated to develop the commerce and agricultural interests of the country

7th. We hold the national honor demands the prompt enforcement of our claims to San Juan Island

Mr Shelton moved to consider the resolutions seriatim Considerable squabbling took place about the 6th Resolution Gen McCarver wanted to compel the N P R R to sell their lands at $2 50 per acre, and in order to effect this, he made a motion to that effect Mr Caton wanted a railroad resolution favoring the Walla Walla and Touchet railroad, and somebody, as he said, might want Government aid for a railroad from San Juan Island to the Skokomish, therefore he urged a modification of the original resolution, so that Congress would be required to aid any railroad now, or hereafter projected and to be built The platform was finally adopted as above reported A rustic delegate, from Walla Walla, wanted to know what had become of the 8th Resolution and the President and other members echoed the inquiry until Mr Caton informed them that the Democracy of Oregon had charge of the 8th Resolution

Nominations for Delegate to Congress were then declared in order Mr J. D Mix and F P Dugan were placed in nomination Mr Dugan withdrew his name, stating that he was no candidate for any office whatever The President then rose and put the question upon Mr Mix's nomination, which was declared carried, only a few scattering votes voting in the affirmative Hereupon a member objected to this procedure, because the Convention had already adopted the viva voce system of voting, and a motion was made to rescind Quite a discussion arose about this irregularity, which was interrupted by a telegram from Whatcom county, delegating a proxy for that county, with instructions to cast the vote for O B McFadden, as first choice. Here was threatened another entanglement, which finally resulted in another adjournment until 1 o clock P M

At one o'clock the valiant Democracy, having refreshed the inner man with copious draughts of "Reese's platform," came bravely up to the work by nominating upon the first ballot Judge J D Mix as the choice of the Democracy for Delegate to Congress That gentleman being called upon soon appeared and made "some remarks," accepting the nomination, arraigning the Radical party for violating the Constitution by amending it, promising to restore that document to its original purity, and also foreshadowing his Congressional policy of "equitably adjusting the national debt "

The following gentlemen were then appointed as a Territorial Central Committee Levi Shelton, of Thurston county, Chairman I T Reese, of Walla Walla, E Ping, of Walla Walla Gay Hayden, of Clark, Dr Ostrander of Cowlitz, E A Light, of Pierce, Granville O Haller, of Island county.

The several District delegations then made the following nominations for

PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS

N T Caton, 1st Judicial District, O B McFadden 2d Judicial District P D Parks 3d Judicial District

The Convention then adjourned, with an abortive attempt led by a gentleman who had a very bad cold to raise three cheers for the nominee, which was faintly responded to by the delegates and one or two outsiders To characterize the whole proceeding of the "Great Democratic Convention" as "decidedly flat" would hardly express it The members of the Convention seemed to read the handwriting on the wall, and seemed to be fully conscious that a disastrous defeat awaited their labors There was no enthusiasm no exhortations and even the usual liquid Democratic concomitants did not seem to revive the drooping spirits of the faithful It is hardly necessary to add that Mr Garfielde will be returned to Congress by an overwhelming majority

Yours "MAC"

P S Since writing the foregoing I learn that the nomination of Judge McFadden as Prosecuting Attorney was rescinded and the name of Richard Lane was substituted

CURRENT NOTES

A Philadelphia organization known among its members as the Democratic Association of Pennsylvania was much startled by one of its speakers at a recent meeting who urged them to court the negro vote and exclaimed "Let the dead past bury its dead and let us as Democrats take hold of the living issues that are now before the country accept the situation as we find it and fight our next political battle with sanguine hopes of success

The Congressional animus in regard to the army was well seen and well rebuked in a conversation between an officer and a Congressman touching the relative value of the services of each to the country In answer to reasons why the pay should not be reduced the Congressman said "Why we can get plenty of men to take your place for thirty dollars a month Yes replied the officer and we can get plenty to take your place for the stealings "

The Des Moines Register has the following "The Eastern papers describe a singular relic of the war which some reconstructed Johnny reb exhibits at Richmond It is two musket balls welded together into two flat disks, inseparably united by meeting in full flight over a battle field The press of the East claim that for this oddity there is no duplicate But there is a greater curiosity in Iowa Mr W A J Seals of Monroe, has shown us two minnie balls which were picked up on the field after the second conflict at Bull Run The balls met at right angles and the point of one was buried half way in the body of the other The ball that was struck is bent and the striking bullet is flattened, but the plug end is plainly marked "

IDAHO

[From the Boise Chronicle, March 30]

Capt James W Porter formerly of the volunteer army and afterward Provost Marshal for Washington Territory, died at Boise City on the 10th He had been confined to his bed since September 10th, with the exception of an interval of two weeks He was born in Harrison county, Kentucky on the 9th of May, 1826 In 1847, he emigrated to Iowa, and in 1850 to California In 1861 he failed in business in Petaluma California, in connection with two brothers under the firm name of Porter & Brothers The following winter he entered the Quartermaster's Department at Fort Vancouver He was Provost Marshal for Washington Territory during the rebellion

Immediately after the close of the war he emigrated to Idaho and has been engaged as clerk in the Commissary department—chief clerk, in the Indian Superintendency and Private Secretary to Gov Ballard Has had lung disease for the past twelve years and been bed ridden nearly half the time for three years past

We are informed by Mr W A Ball, one of the leading merchants of Warren's Diggings, I T that by an expression of the miners of that camp the Chinese will be allowed there this season Knowing that there is a large amount of ground in Warren's which will not be worked by white men we have no doubt that this movement may be conducive to the interests of the camp, but still we doubt the policy of opening the mines to these Celestials

FAITH AT WORK — In accordance the programme of the Ratification Jubilee had been previously advertised the torch procession of colored men formed last evening A street between Front and First o'clock headed by the 23d Infantry band paraded down Front street up Oak to First up Taylor to Salmon thence to the Court House The court room nearly filled by the procession people were the Square before the stands people were able to gain admission At the Court House exercises were opened by Mr J Beatty President in a brief but excellent speech stating the object for which they had assembled to be to ratify the most glorious event in history the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States which was real corner stone in the construction of true liberty last spike in the construction of which was driven so firmly built in America, and which would withstand the future assaults of the foes that would tear it down He then introduced Rev James Lodge who invoked a divine blessing after which the 23d Infantry band played "Hail Columbia" and next in order came Mr E Simmons who read a declaration of sentiments from which we select the following

WHEREAS In the administration of our President and soldier General Grant and Congress of the United States not forgetting our much lamented patriot and martyred President ABRAHAM LINCOLN we recognize the principles for which the Constitution of the United States was framed viz equality before law and equal rights to every man therefore

Resolved That we the newly enfranchised freemen of the State of Oregon hail with joy the event which makes us now doubly feel the United States to be our native home and abiding place Doubly our homes —1st, by our having been born here and knowing no other flag but the stars and stripes, which so nobly floats over us 2d, by the rights which are guaranteed to us by the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America extending to us the privileges of citizenship as men

Resolved That we now feel ourselves in duty bound to conform to all the laws of the land becomes all free and enlightened lovers of their country by sustaining the Government in the of peace in the cheerful payment of all just and legal taxes and by assisting in time of war good citizens whose interests are duly rep.

Resolved That it shall be our chief aim render such an account of ourselves, should country need us that America, the greatest nation of the earth may be proud of her newly enfranchised citizens

The Orator Mr George P Riley, was next introduced, and he delivered a fine oration of about half an hour's duration, which would do honor to many men of more boasted information and superior intellect His remarks were a good picture of his race whose hopes have for so many years been dimmed by the corroding rust of slavery, but now begin to shine forth in an effulgence of almost divine glory under the sign of universal liberty He was roundly applauded several times The speaker claimed that the first blood at Lexington, shed for the liberty of this country, sprang from the veins of a colored citizen of Massachusetts, and said that if any of his hearers did not know that in the earlier days of the Republic colored citizens, by their votes and their aims, assisted to maintain the Government their education had been almost as sadly neglected as the poor slave down South under Democratic rule. He appealed to the men of white people to aid and assist the black man in his efforts to maintain himself in his new condition by laying aside all prejudice, and admitting the patent truth that nations are progressive. He closed with an able call to his fellow colored citizens to prove themselves worthy of the gift and strive to so live as to admit of the truth that these blessings had not been conferred upon them in vain but to set their minds upon refraining from dissoluteness to shun the haunts of vice, and study to realize the sense of the situation, that the dark scars of slavery and degradation might be finally and fully obliterated by the new hope which would now surround them, as they are landed safe in the harbor of liberty.

The Band then played the "Star Spangled Banner," with good effect, after which Brig. General Saxton was introduced, and after a brief but fitting allusion to some of the events which had finally brought about the result being commemorated here this evening, he related many interesting incidents of his experience with colored men during the late civil war, showing conclusively that the prejudices against black men were not well grounded He had proven that the black man was a good soldier a good laborer; that he was provident, and trustworthy, and these facts had been established by actual work under most trying circumstances.

Gen. Saxton through the Band played "Yankee Doodle" and then ex Governor Gibbs made a most excellent address full of patriotic sentiment and replete with interesting incidents of his trip into Arkansas last year He was followed by Hon Alanson Smith, who, though laboring under a physical oppression, was filled with the true sentiments, abounding in references to historical events which have a bearing upon the final accomplishment of the great work which now truly gives equal liberty to so many suffering millions His remarks were stirring and patriotic Hon E. L Applegate being called upon, next addressed the meeting The hour was advancing towards midnight however and he was compelled to be brief but notwithstanding this, we think the large audience which completely filled the court room and which had as yet given no signs of the least impatience, would have remained another hour to listen to further addresses with his remarks which, as usual with anything from Mr Applegate, were rich in sparkling gems of thought and anecdote, the ceremonies closed Rev Mr Eliot pronouncing a benediction.

SIDING UP TO THE NEW MAN —There was an illustration on the streets of this city yesterday which showed more plainly than words can express it, what was meant by giving the colored man the ballot in the much persecuted State about 1865 Senator Williams, then on a hobby visit, interpreted the case to be that either ballots or bullets were necessary down south, and that was so Giving the colored man a vote places him in a position to protect himself to much better advantage than a standing army could do for him But says the Northern Copperhead "eventually, this will lead to their enfranchisement elsewhere and the negro is not fit to — in favor in Oregon He is an inferior and it is a flagrant outrage to the white race to put us on an equality with him" But yesterday while a colored man on Washington street was putting flags into the bridle on his horse and otherwise preparing for the jubilee, which passed off so creditably to the colored population in whose interest it was gotten up an old Copperhead approached the newly made citizen and endeavored to show him that the glorious Democratic party was the party which had passed this invaluable gift to the negro. The argument was something after the usual style of sophistry always adopted by the Democracy to win votes It was about this style, for instance: That the Democracy by opposing the war, eventually caused the 14th Amendment which made the negro a citizen that by opposing the 14th Amendment they made it successful and that by making it successful they made the 15th Amendment necessary which makes the negro's vote therefore the Democracy made him a citizen and a voter and should have his lasting friendship and vote If this was not the argument it was something equally as absurd but be that as it may the incident would show the cheek of Democracy in asking for the support of a man in the present canvass whom Democracy have always denounced as a being created by God for only one purpose and he was perpetual bondage the was a being in [illegible] that ever he feeling of affection were nothing to him and the sale of his m [illegible] every severing ties of family and all that was dear to him but a matter of business Things have changed somewhat in Democracy

ARRIVAL [illegible] The steamer [illegible] and a large number of gentlemen and ladies, yesterday off the [illegible] street wharf at 1 o'clock P M for Milwaukie where the Alert from Oregon City was met [illegible] the Aurora Band the numbers [illegible] State Republican Convention [illegible] were [illegible] Both steamers arrived at the wharf amid the firing of salutes cheers and the music of the bands delegates [illegible] and the scene was [illegible] The appearance of the [illegible] forerunner of certain success which awaits the Republican party on the 6th of June The people are awaking to a sense of the situation

COMMON COUNCIL — Council met last evening at the usual hour and in the absence of Mayor Goldsmith Councilman Lewis was called to the chair Present— Councilmen Hills, Dr [illegible] Lewis and Ripley On motion Council adjourned until Friday to morrow evening at 7½ o'clock ommission.

Things have changed ... but, but no thanks to Democracy

Arrival of Delegates.—The steamer Senator with the 23d Infantry Band the Mechanics Band and a large number of gentlemen and ladies, yesterday left the Morrison street wharf at 1 o clock P. M. for Milwaukie, where the Alert from Oregon City was met, with the Aurora Band and the Southern Delegation to the State Republican Convention to be held here to day. Both steamers were lashed together, and at three o clock arrived at the wharf amid the firing of salutes, the cheers of the people and the music of the bands the delegates were landed and the scene was one such as is very seldom witnessed in cities of the size of this. The appearance made on this occasion is a forerunner of certain success which awaits the Republican party on the 6th of June. The people are awakening to a just sense of the situation

Council Proceedings.—Council met last night at the usual hour and in the absence of Mayor ... Councilman Lewis was called to the chair. Present—Councilmen, Bills, Breck, Cree, Lewis and Ripley. On motion, Council adjourned until Friday (to-morrow) evening at 7½ o'clock

Compliments Received.—Lydia Thompson chief of the blondes and leader of the short skirted brigade, which lately kicked up such a muss in Chicago, has sent us the compliments in the "Lecture of the Lash" which purports to be a plain statement of facts in the Storey whipping case. We have not time to go over the matter a review but glancing it over see that the substance is about the same as that upon which we based our remarks some three weeks since

Injustice.—It would be a matter of impossibility to detail the ... we have received within the last twenty four hours but we are glad to meet with Mr F C Sells from Grant county a delegate here to day and learn that he was not injured, and that the cause up there has not suffered greatly by the action of the last Legislature in removing him to give a seat to C H Dibblee, ... an unreconstructed ... breaker

A Good Thing.—The Commercial says The fire bell at Multnomah Engine Co No 2 which has heretofore been rather difficult to ring requiring the united strength of two men has by an ingenious contrivance invented by Mr Hallock of the Willamette Iron Works been so altered that a gentle pull from the hand of a child would sound the alarm, or give notice of a meeting

A Humbug.—Some of the lady subscribers to Madame Demorest's Monthly have found out that the extraordinary gifts of silverware &c, which are given as premiums by the publishers of that periodical, are the sheerest of humbugs. The cost for expressing the articles to Oregon is in actual excess of the value of the articles received

Sailed.—The steamer Idaho Captain Rodgers commanding sailed last evening for Victoria. The following were passengers Edward Johnston, A Mullan Mrs Jebbey, A Watson, George Folks, Mrs John Learey Mrs Wheeler A S Pease, Robert Dickson C H Ludington, Wm Morton Wm Doland Edward Hughes

St Stephens Chapel.—Workmen were engaged at St. Stephen Chapel yesterday on the frame-work of the Vestry, which is being erected on the north end of the main structure. When completed there will be very fine improvements for that locality. St Stephen Chapel is upon the same half block with St Helen's Hall

Real Estate.—No records of deeds have been made at the Clerk's Office for some days past in consequence of the recording of a copy of the map of that part of the city plot amended by the extension of Eighth and Ninth streets with accompanying confirmation of the City Council, report of the viewers, etc

Serenade.—The colored citizens, after the close of their interesting ceremonies at the Court House last night, paid their respects to several citizens in serenades by the 23d Infantry band. We acknowledge their call at the Oregonian office, and thank them for their remembrance of us

Annual Meeting.—W S Caldwell Esq Secretary of the Portland Macadamized Road Co., gives notice this morning under the appropriate heading, that the annual meeting of the Company will be held at the White House, on Saturday afternoon, April 16th, at 3 o'clock

P T Co's Steamers.—Persons desiring to go South by steamer on Friday should know that there will be no boat on that day for Salem and Corvallis, but that on Saturday morning at 7 o'clock, a boat will leave here and delegates and others can go through on that day

The Oregon Railroad Bill.—The report about town yesterday to the effect that the bill for the grant of lands to aid in the construction of the Portland, Astoria and McMinnville Railroad had passed, was simple rumor. But the bill is certain to pass.

Why Free.—Some questions have been asked as to why the delegates to the State Convention from the South came free. We answer that this was because the State Central Committee had seen fit to charter boats of the P T Co for this purpose.

For Astoria.—Capt James Welch of Astoria, is in town with his schooner Fanny Bell, for a cargo of Brick and other material for Fort Stevens. Capt Welch has a contract to furnish material for improvements to be made on the forts this summer

Deferred.—The meeting of the Congressional Temperance Society, which was to have taken place at the Baptist Church last night was deferred one week in consequence of the death of the wife of the Rev. I D Driver

For Election of Officers.—Mr Walter, Secretary of the First Hebrew Benevolent Society, of Portland, gives notice to day that, at Turn Verein Hall, on the 10th, officers will be chosen to serve for the ensuing year

Improvements at No 3's.—We learn that Columbian Engine Company No 3 have decided to expend something like a thousand or twelve hundred dollars in the purchase of furniture for their meeting rooms

Died.—Mrs Driver expired at the Occidental Hotel at 1 30 P M yesterday. It is with deep regret that we pen this announcement. The remains will be taken to Salem to day for interment

Re opened.—J Finnen has re-opened his tobacco and cigar business on First street near Washington, next door to the old Corner Saloon, See advertisement

Affirmed.—The report of the referee in the case of D. T Stimson vs Estes & Stimson, was yesterday affirmed by the Circuit Court for Multnomah county

State Convention.—The Republican State Convention will meet to day at the Court House, in this city, at ten o'clock A M

To Sail.—The steamship Montana, Capt Bolles, will leave Couch's wharf this evening at 4 o'clock, for San Francisco

Stored.—The Government wagons received per Montana, have been stored at Department Head quarters

Mr Editor—Sir Permit me through the columns of your paper to tender my thanks to the Chief Engineer and Assistants and to the entire Fire Department for their service in extinguishing the fire in my warehouse on Thursday evening last. I deem they merit more than ordinary praise for their services considering the combustible material and difficulties and attendant danger to overcome in getting at the fire. I do assure them I feel under lasting obligation for their promptness and efficiency, as but for their services the results would have been very disastrous M SELLER

To Members of the Convention.—Beck & Waldman offer large inducements in Gents Clothing and Dry Goods. Do not leave town without calling on them at the corner of Washington and Front streets

What does Reason say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant eats of it and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings, on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does. The next question is what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard. Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possesses strengthening regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects a thing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Romance.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES

Oh, she was a maid of laughing eye
And she lived in a garret cold and high;
And he was a threadbare whiskered beau
And he lived in a cellar damp and low.

But the rosy boy of the silken wing
Has many a shaft in his slender string,
And the youth below the maid above
Were touched with the flashing darts of love.

And she would wake from her troubled sleep,
O'er his tender billet-doux to weep
Or stand like a statue bright and fair,
And gaze on a lock of his bright, red hair.

And he who was so tall and proud
With his step so firm and his laugh so loud
His beard grew long and his face grew thin
And he pined in solitude over his sin.

But one soft night in the month of June
As she lay in the light of a cloudless moon,
A voice came floating soft and clear
To the startled maiden's listening ear.

Oh, then from her creaking couch she sprung,
And her tangled tresses back she flung,
She looked from the window far below,
And he stood beneath, her whiskered beau.

She did not start with a foolish frown,
But packed her trunk and scampered down
And there was her lover tall and true,
In his threadbare coat of the brightest blue.

The star that rose in the evening shade
Looked sadly down on a weeping maid
The sun that came in his morning pride
Shed golden light o'er a laughing bride.

Why Keep Up Prices.

[From the N. Y. Times, March 23.]

The time of year draws nigh when the sorrows of house-hunting press heavily upon the human mind. Many worthy persons in the early stage of married life are now destined to discover for the first time that the house which would exactly suit them is far too expensive for their means, and that the cheap house is in some locality where none of their friends could be reasonably expected to visit them. If people will live in New York, they must pay for the privilege. Over the way, at Brooklyn, house-rent is considerably lower, and Brooklyn is a pleasant city, can boast of good air and pleasant society, is easy of access to New York, and by and by will have a beautiful park. But most persons will not cross a river to get home if they can help it. They stay at their offices until close upon their dinner hour, and have only just time to jump into a car and hurry straight to their own doors. Hence it is that New York is now being scoured far and near for houses.

A month or two ago most landlords sent round to their tenants that little notice which they have long been in the habit of issuing annually, and which they thoroughly believed was destined to stand good forever. It was to the effect that after the 1st of May the rent of their premises would be increased by so many hundred dollars. As the screw had been applied so often before, the tenants were very little disposed to submit themselves to the torture without an effort to free themselves. They very soon discovered that the landlords were asking considerably more than the market price of their property. In cases where notice of an increase of rent was served, and the tenant had declared his intention of giving up the house, it was found that no one applied for it on the landlord's terms. This fact soon exercised a wonderful influence. The prices, instead of being raised, were lowered. The reduction has been equal to from twelve to twenty-five per cent. on the larger class of houses, but a good deal less on the smaller class, because they are much more in demand. We have no doubt that the tendency will still be downward, and that before the 1st of May good houses will be in the market on terms within the range of an ordinary purse.

Landlords must, like other people yield to the general tendency of the hour. The public have long paid extravagant rates for almost everything they require, and now there is a great and unanimous cry for relief. The hotels must lower their charges soon. Some of them have taken "time by the forelock," but the larger houses up-town keep to war rates. It will never do much longer. With gold at 112, people will not pay as much as they did when the precious metal commanded a premium of 50 or 60. The tailors, the shoemakers, and others who minister to our necessities or comforts, must also take the hint. The prices at present charged for good clothes, or good boots, are out of all proportion to their real value, or to the cost of production. It is a great mistake to act upon the policy of "getting as much out of the people" as possible. A generous course will be found to pay the best in the long run. The landlords have done very well for years past, and so have the store keepers. Suppose they now give the patient public an innings?

GENERAL AMES.—Donn Piatt writes to the Cincinnati Commercial as follows:

While Senator Revels is received with pleasing alacrity, there does not seem to be the same unanimous rejoicing over the advent of Senator Ames. I have not the pleasure of the gentleman's acquaintance. I saw him at a dinner party one night before I was taken ill, and a gentleman familiar with Mississippi politics pointed him out to me.

"He is very young to be a Senator," I said.

"Yes, and there is a good deal of a row over his alleged use of his position as military commander to secure the place."

"Are the charges just?"

"Well, no, I think not, from the fact that he has a powerful party at his back sustaining him in it. A man may use a position like the one he held to secure a return to the Senate, but he could not build up a party unless there was something in him to justify his acceptance."

"You believe in giving the tools to those who can use them?"

"Unquestionably. The ambition to secure a place in the United States Senate is an honorable ambition; and with such a number of Senators about him who have bought their way in with money, I hardly think he will be abashed."

"Is there really anything in him?"

"Yes, as the country will discover if he has a shadow of a fair chance. He has what is rare among army officers, a clear knowledge of the political situation, and in reconstructing the State did it on purely radical principles. In making his appointments and removals he exhibited a singular political sagacity, securing not only competent men, but men true to his platform. To his management may be attributed the 38,000 Republican majority, the election of Gov. Alcorn, and the overthrow of Dent."

"All the while keeping an eye to the election of Ames?"

"Not at all."

"How do you know? It is so charged."

"If he had ever exacted a promise or organized a combination, it would all be spread out to the world, for the Democratic press, that is attacking him right and left, would not be slow to use such a fact. That's how I know. The fact is, the place was pressed upon him. A majority of the members elected by the Republican party to the Legislature wrote to Gen. Ames, urging him to accept the place, and he consented after some deliberation, and a consultation of his friends, both in Mississippi in Washington. To appreciate all this, one has to know the facts, and one of the most significant comes in the question. Had they not selected Gen. Ames, who could they have united on? Now, I can tell you, there was not a man nominated in connection with the place who would not have created more opposition and abuse and dissention in our party than the General."

The Paris Siecle thinks that a recent report on our system of popular education must revolutionize that of France. If Americans and their official representatives were only true to their traditions and principles, the reports of our institutions generally would revolutionize not only France, but all the other monarchies and despotisms of Europe. But, between travelling toadies of foreign potentates and aristocracies, and statesmen who misrepresent the American people, the United States has managed to fritter away its legitimate influence.

In a private letter, dated March 15, Senator Fenton says: "Could anything be more weak on the part of friends, or more wicked on the part of enemies than the talk about my being a candidate for President? I certainly entertain no such purpose, nor, since Gen. Grant's Administration is doing so well, can I deem it necessary or wise for its supporters to take into consideration any change of leadership."

A NEW EXPEDITION PROPOSED BY CAPT. HALL.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

Captain C. F. Hall, one of the most indefatigable explorers of modern times, has determined upon another expedition to the North Pole. For this purpose he is now in Washington, endeavoring, and with every prospect of success, to obtain a suitable appropriation to provide the necessaries for his voyage.

The general plan proposed by Captain Hall for his expedition is briefly, to have two small vessels manned with twenty four hands all told. One of them will be a steam propeller of about 150 tons burden, but also provided with a complete outfit of sails, and the other a topsail schooner of about 120 tons. His route, as now projected, will be up Jones' Sound and then east as sea and land may permit up towards the Pole. After getting the vessel as far as practicable, he proposes to secure them in harbor, making the rest of the distance by means of the Esquimaux dogs and sledges. The object of his voyage is of a three fold character, first, for a geographical discovery second, for the advancement of the interests of science, and third, for commerce. The finding of the new whaling grounds, which most likely lie in the route proposed, would, of course, result very beneficially to commerce. His ice masters will of course be well experienced Arctic whalers, and in this policy he but follows the example of Perry, Franklin, Ross and Kane. At the end of the second or third year, he expects to send one of his vessels to the States with dispatches, and also to get whatever might be required from here for the continued prosecution of his explorations.

Should Captain Hall fail to get the Congressional appropriation needed to carry out the above entitled plan, he announces his intention of falling back upon the plan of getting Congress to legislate, if possible, for one of the steamers belonging to the Navy Department to take himself and a small party with the necessary outfit, up to Hartstene Bay, (lat. 78°17′ N.) there leaving the explorers and their outfit, the vessel returning at once. He would then make his headquarters upon the shores of Hartstene Bay, and from this point as a base work his way towards the North Pole. He says that he doubts not that, with the providential protection which he has enjoyed on his two previous Arctic voyages, he will be able in from three to five years to fully accomplish the determination of his soul, which, he added, was to place his foot on the northern extremity of the axis of the globe.

The personnel of the expedition has not yet been completely determined upon. One of its officers will probably be Admiral Grinnel, now of the Japanese Navy, who was formerly a Lieutenant in the United States Navy, and who recently went to Yokohama in the ill fated United States steamer Oneida. Admiral Grinnell is a son of Henry Grinnell, Esq., of this city, a gentleman whose liberality in this direction has linked his name indissolubly with Arctic explorations and triumphs.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Wednesday, April 6th, 1870.

In the merchandise market, we have to note a very good trade in dry goods and grocery lines. Otherwise, the usual quiet prevails in all directions.

The following are quotations at Eugene City, April 1st. Flour, $3 50@$4. Corn meal, Oregon, in bulk, 3c per lb. Wheat, best white, 45@50c. Oats—none in market, nominal price among farmers 30@35. Butter, 15c. Cheese, Oregon, 18@20c. Eggs, 20c. Potatoes, 37½. Bacon—sides and hams, retail, 11@12½c, shoulders, 5@7c. Lard in tins, 12c; in bulk 11c.

Matters in the Interior.

We find the following paragraphs relating to business and farming matters in the Walla Walla valley, in the Union of the 2d:

Some ten or twelve pack trains have loaded during the past week, and others are busily engaged in putting up cargoes for the various mining camps. A large number of teams are also being loaded for Lewiston and other accessible points for wagons. We anticipate a lively spring trade, and several of our leading merchants have already been doing a thriving business in loading trains and teams.

There is a great activity among the farmers at this time. There is a much larger crop being put in this season than on any former year. The indications are favorable for an abundant crop. The present ruling price of wheat is encouraging for the farmer. First quality of fall wheat has been selling for $1 25 per bushel. This is the highest price wheat has attained for several years.

We learn from Mr. James Jones, that his trip below to secure telegraph communication with Walupla, was a fruitless one, and that the O. S. N. Company have reserved the right to extend the line themselves. He informs us also, that the poles are all out for the purpose, and that it will be in working order inside of the next six weeks.

Quite a lively opposition is being kept up on the Wallula route. The opposition took down a fair load on Tuesday last. On returning, fare was put down to $1 00 per passenger; the old line agreed to haul them up for nothing. The opposition did not want any on those terms, and let the old line have all that wished to avail themselves of a free ride.

Capt. Julius left here on Monday last for Pen d'Oreille city, for the purpose of getting the boat in readiness for the spring trade. He informed us that he would have everything in readiness for running in a week after he shall have arrived. The prospect for a good run this spring looks favorable. The boat on the Pen d'Oreille is looked upon as a necessity, for without it, traveling is very difficult early in the spring.

Mining Intelligence.

THE CEDAR CREEK MINES.

We take the following letter from the Helena Herald:

CEDAR JUNCTION, Feb. 13, 1870.

DAN FISK, Esq.—Sir.—During the absence of your worthy correspondent, I take pleasure in giving you a few items regarding our new mines. Having returned yesterday from a trip of observation up the gulch, I noticed a great deal of work going on in upper or Barrette District. The number of drain ditches which are being worked I did not ascertain, but I am sure most every other claim is under preparation of being opened. Every prospect hole, so far, from No. 60 above discovery to 105 below, gives satisfactory evidence of the richness of this gulch, and the indications are now that the lower districts in Cedar gulch will pay also. On several claims the boys are hard at work with rockers, and average very good wages.

Louisville is improving daily. Large buildings are in course of construction, and town lots are held at high figures. The bars below this town and above Cedar Junction are prospecting beyond expectations. As high as $1 25 to to the pan is obtained on these bars. In the drain on No. 30 below discovery the boys are close to bed rock, and ten to fifteen cents to the shovel is common in the gravel. Mining ground has advanced considerably in the price within the last two weeks. No. 31 below discovery was offered two weeks ago for $300, to-day it will not sell for less than $2,500. Several sales have been made within a few days. Nos. 24, 25 and 26 above discovery were sold last Sunday for $1,850.

From our new district (Sweeney district) on Lost gulch, a tributary to Oregon, very encouraging news has come to-day. The bars are prospecting 40 cents to the pan. Several drain ditches are about to be opened.

Messrs. Simpson & Allpert have purchased claim No. 91 below discovery in Cedar gulch, and are hard at work. These gentlemen own some very good ground on Klyus bar, and Jack Simmons says he will sluice in about two weeks, so look out for big reports. Claims are changing hands in Lost gulch and are held at high figures.

Cedar Junction is improving slow but sure, and will undoubtedly be the place, as all the supplies are held here and the miners are coming here for the same. Several companies are about to open their claims below this town, which, with the steady immigration, will give it quite the looks of a metropolis.

Four men arrived a few days ago from Walla Walla twenty-two days out. They came over the main divide on snow-shoes. They report the road very good to the Spokane bridge, and a great many men on the road from there.

Business in general is dull. As yet but very little money has been taken out. Mail facilities are very poor, and our Postmaster has not yet received a key for the mail bag. The other day he had to send a mail sack out of camp without being opened. Hoping, however, this soon will be remedied, I remain, meanwhile,

Republican Territorial Convention.

To the Republican Voters of Washington Territory. By an Act of Congress, approved March 3, 1869, the Delegate to which this Territory will be entitled in the Forty Second Congress of the United States, is to be elected on the first Monday, being the 6th day of June, 1870.

The Republican Central Committee have, therefore, called a Republican Convention to assemble on Thursday the 21st day of April next, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the city of Vancouver, to put in nomination a candidate for Delegate, and to transact such other business as may properly come before it.

The basis of representation adopted by the Committee is the same as the representation in the last Convention, except that no county which cast one hundred or more Republican votes at the last election shall have less than one vote in the Convention. Under this basis the respective counties will be entitled to representation and votes as follows:

Chehalis, 1 delegate, 1½ vote. Clarke, 4 delegates, 4 votes. Clallam 1 delegate, 1 vote. Cowlitz 1 delegate, 1 vote. Island, 1 delegate, 1 vote. Jefferson, 2 delegates, 1½ votes. King 2 delegates, 2 votes. Kitsap, 2 delegates, 1½ votes. Klickitat, 1 delegate, 1½ vote. Lewis, 1 delegate, 1 vote. Mason 1 delegate, 1½ vote. Pacific, 1 delegate, 1 vote. Pierce, 2 delegates, 1½ votes. Skamania, 1 delegate, 1 vote. Snohomish 1 delegate, 1 vote. Stevens, 1 delegate, 1 vote. Thurston 3 delegates, 2½ votes. Walla Walla, 6 delegates, 6 votes. Wahkiakum, 1 delegate, ½ vote. Whatcom, 1 delegate, 1 vote. Yakima, 1 delegate, ½ vote.

It is respectfully recommended to the several counties to hold their Primaries on the 2d and their County Conventions on the 9th day of April.

The Committee would urgently request every republican to attend the primary meetings and elect as such delegates firm friends of the Republican cause—the cause of Freedom and Progress, the cause which will in the future as in the past, promote the best interests of the whole people.

We call upon all Republicans to remain firmly united and under no circumstances to allow disorganizing influences to divide and endanger the success of the Republican party. Everything now indicates the success of our party at the ensuing election.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,
Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtain immediate relief.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in a registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 952.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 952 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.
☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d6ptf
